Toronto.

Dear Mr. Dunstan:

I have been very much interested in the menu of the Yale Dining Hall. Apparently they have surmounted the troubles that they were undergoing a few years ago. The running of the Dining Hall is an extremely difficult piece of business. We have been very fortunate for a number of years through having Miss Ryley as our Superintendent, and I think that under her direction we are giving a cheaper meal than is given at Yale, and I have never had any complaints as to the quality. In our Hall second helpings without charge are allowed in everything except Ice Cream and milk. Half of our students on an average use second helpings of butter and as many slices of bread or toast as desired. As a matter of interest I am sending you Miss Ryley's comparison of charges.

Yours sincerely,

President.

R. J. Dunstan, Esq.,

Treasurer, Canadian Red Cross Society,

Toronto.

Dear Mr. Dunstan:

When I was in Princeton last week Professor Henry Norris Russell asked me about funds to which he might send contributions. I recommended that he should do something for the Canadian Red Cross and have now much pleasure in enclosing his cheque for fifty dollars ($50.00). Would you be kind enough to acknowledge the receipt of the money to Professor Russell, 79 Alexander Street, Princeton, N.J.?

Yours sincerely,

President.
